Discontinuation Notice of eLearning Courses

Due to changes in our learning platform, Omron's eLearning courses will be unavailable after December 22, 2023. We understand the importance of training your staff on introductory topics in automation and apologize for the disruption this may cause. Please stay tuned as we release new content which will be rolled out over the next year.

Note: This change does not affect our On-Demand Product Training courses, nor does it impact our Virtual or In-Person trainings. We will continue to offer our courses such as programming, maintenance, skill builder, and TÜV certification training. Please visit https://automation.omron.com/en/us/support/training/courses/ for the most current list of training courses.
